Maryland Council on Economic Education Appoints Matthew Rothstein to Board of Trustees

BALTIMORE, October 17, 2016 – The Maryland Council on Economic Education (MCEE), a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving economic and financial literacy in Maryland’s schools, today announced it has elected Matthew Rothstein, CPA, MST to its governing Board of Trustees.

Rothstein is a manager at Rosen, Sapperstein & Friedlander, LLC (RS&F), a business consulting and accounting firm. Rothstein has worked in public accounting for over 10 years. His background and experience allow him to be involved in all areas of client service, including business and personal strategic tax planning, succession, estate and gift planning, choice of entity, mergers, acquisitions, and interactions with government agencies on tax related matters. Rothstein has experience in a variety of industries, including commercial & residential real estate, construction, technology, automotive, and distribution, as well as with high net worth families.

“We are confident that Matt will be a great addition to The Maryland Council on Economic Education Board of Trustees,” said Mary Ann Hewitt, executive director of MCEE. “Our vision of providing students with financial and economic education to prepare them for life as consumers and workers will continue to thrive with Matt and the rest of our existing Board.”

Rothstein received his degree in accounting from West Virginia University in 2005 and a master’s in taxation from University of Baltimore in 2008. He has been a Certified Public Accountant since 2009 and is a member of both the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants.

About Maryland Council on Economic Education

For more than 60 years, the Maryland Council on Economic Education (MCEE) has worked to assure that Maryland’s young people leave school equipped with the economic and financial literacy knowledge and decision-making skills they will need to make informed, rational decisions as consumers, workers, citizens, savers, investors, and participants in the global economy. MCEE is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization and affiliate of the national Council for Economic Education.
